

AUTHOR PROFILES

Abdulkadir Yilmazcan is a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Hong Kong. He is also a Trade Official of Turkey. Mr. Yilmazcan worked on import tariffs, FTAs, product safety and technical regulations. He conducted several trade remedy investigations including anti-dumping and anti-circumvention.

His research area is international trade law specializing in the WTO and maritime law. He obtained his first LL.M. degree with distinction from the University of Sussex on international trade law as a Jean Monnet Scholar. He had his second master's degree in the maritime law from Ankara University. He may be contacted at: abdulkadiryilmazcan@yahoo.com.

Hongwu Yin is an associate professor of international law at Hunan Normal University Law School. Dr. Yin has also been practicing law as a PRC qualified attorney since 2012. He was a Visiting Scholar in 2015-16 academic year at the University of Hawaii Law School, US. He was awarded the honorary title of China's National "Two Thousands Elites" in 2017. He serves as deputy director of Changsha Foreign Legal Services Research Center, Hunan Province, China. Dr. Yin has published over 30 academic articles in first-class Journals delivered in PRC and foreign countries and 4 academic monographs on international law. Dr. Yin is particularly interested in international investment law, international commercial law and treaty law. From 2002 and 2013, he was teaching Business English in the Foreign Studies College of Hunan Normal University. Shortly after obtaining a Ph. D. degree in international law in 2012, Dr. Yin transferred to teach and research international law in the Law School of the same university early 2014. He got an M.A. degree in English linguistics and applied linguistics from Zhejiang University, and a B.A. degree in English language and literature from Hunan University of Science and Technology in 1996. He may be contacted at: lawschool2014@163.com.

Zihan Liu holds LL.M. from the University of Edinburgh and LL.B. from Shanghai University of Political Science and Law (SHUPL). Her research interests span over international economic law, international investment law, the WTO law and international dispute settlement. Among these areas, she is particularly interested in the current reform of the WTO dispute settlement mechanism. She has previously worked as a legal assistant for commercial cases in trial courts located in Shandong and Shanghai, China. She is a member of the PRC bar. She may be contact at: zihanliu980329@gmail.com.

Lapteva Anna is the Head of the Financial Law Department the Higher School of Economics at National Research University, St. Petersburg. In 2011, she defended her Ph.D. thesis titled, “The property complex in the commercial turnover.” She teaches Commercial Law, Investment Law, Legal Regulation of Securities Market, and Legal Regulation of Investments. Dr. Anna has published over 40 monographs, textbooks, and articles on legal issues. Major works include Investment Law (2019), Investment Law in Russia and China (2019), Investment Regimes (2019), The notion “budget investment”» (2018), The Institute unlawful (unfair) competition in the Russian Federation and South Africa (2017), Actual problems of the investment law in the BRICS: Comparative legal characteristics of public-private partnership according to the Russian and Chinese legislation (2015), Protection against Unfair Competition in the Russian Federation, and Cooperation within BRICS (2014). She may be contacted at: laptevaan@rambler.ru.

Oleg Skvortsov is Professor (Commercial Law Chair) at the Saint Petersburg State University. Professor Skvortsov is also Head of the Dispute Resolution Practice and an advisor for the Saint Petersburg office of DLA Piper. In 2000, he defended his Ph.D. with his thesis on “The Institute of Cassation in the Russian Law: Arbitral Procedure Problems of the Legal System and Legal Proceedings.” In 2006, he also defended the thesis for the degree of Doctor of Law on “The Challenges of Arbitration Proceedings for Business Disputes in Russia.” Professor Skvortsov teaches Commercial Law, International Commercial Law, Investment Law, Business Transactions with Real Estate, and the Legal Framework of Bankruptcy Proceedings. He had been a visiting Lecturer in the University of Napoli and the University of Helsinki. He has published over 200 monographs, textbooks, and articles on legal issues including Investment Law (2019), Investment Law in Russia and China (2019), etc. Oleg has extensively participated in arbitration proceedings including the Arbitration Court of the Stockholm Chamber of Commerce, London Court of International Arbitration, and Zurich Arbitration Court under the Zurich Court of Commerce on numerous occasions. In 2016, he became a member of the Council for the Development of Arbitration of Russian Federation under the decree of the Ministry of Justice. He is the Chairman of the Russian Centre for the Assistance to Arbitration. He may be contacted at: oleg.skvortsov@dlapiper.com.

Eric Yong Joong Lee is the President of YIJUN Institute of International Law as well as Professor of International Law at Dongguk University, Seoul, Korea. He is also a High and Foreign Expert of State One Thousand Talent Program of China teaching and researching at Shanghai University of International Business and Economics. Dr. Lee obtained his A.B. (political science) and M.P.A. (public policy) from the University of Washington and Seoul National University, respectively. Then, he continued to study international law at Leiden University for LL.M. and completed his Dr.iur. under the supervision of Professor Peter Malanczuk at Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Professor Lee, an analyst of international law based on international relations, is an expert of international organization, international dispute settlement, and inter-Korean relations. His current academic interests focus on transcultural diplomacy for heritage conservation and peacemaking process of the Korean peninsula. He may be contacted at: grotian@hotmail.com

John Riley is an assistant professor of law at Sogang University School of Law (Korea) and teaches International Business Transactions, Securities Law, Financial Markets, Foreign Direct Investment, and Alternative Dispute Resolution. He received his J.D. from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, and received several fellowships to complete coursework at Seoul National University and Yonsei University. Professor Riley's professional memberships include the Pennsylvania Bar Association, the American Immigration Lawyers Association, and the Korea Law Professor Association. His research areas include: white-collar crime, citizenship and nationality, international trade, artificial intelligence and blockchain. He may be contacted at: johnriley007@gmail.com.

Abid Shah Jillani is a Ph.D. candidate at Zhengzhou University School of Law, China. He served as an attorney at High Courts of Pakistan. He also served as adjunct faculty at different law institutes at Pakistan. Abid worked in various research projects such as Killer Robots and their Compliance with the Principles of Law of War. He may be contacted at: Abidshahjillani@gmail.com/Abidshahjillani@outlook.com

Ximei Wu is a professor of law at Zhengzhou University School of Law, China. She holds her Ph.D. in law from Chongqing University. Her major areas of teaching and research cover the international law, WTO law, and environmental law. Dr. Wu has many publications in these areas and been leading a lot of research projects sponsored by the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Agriculture and National Office of Philosophy and Social Sciences. She was a visiting Professor at the Public Policy School of Calgary University, Canada. She may be contacted at: zzueducnwxn@zzu.edu.cn.

Farheen Ahmad is currently a Ph.D. candidate at South Asian University, New Delhi. She holds an LL.M. in International Law from South Asian University and received B.A. LL.B. from Chanakya National Law University, Patna. Her areas of interest include Public International Law, Treaty Interpretation, International Dispute Settlement, Water Law and Constitutional Law. She has published in various journals and newspapers. She may be contacted at farheenahmad@gmail.com.

Anmolam is a practicing lawyer. He was awarded LL.M. in International Law from South Asian University, New Delhi and a B.A. & LL.B. from Chanakya National Law University, Patna. His research interests include Public International law and Constitutional law. He has published articles in various journals, blogs and leading newspapers. He can be contacted at:

lawyer.anmolam@gmail.com.

Stuart Malawer holds a Ph.D. from the Dept. of International Relations at the University of Pennsylvania. He has a J.D. from the Cornell Law School and a Diploma from The Hague Academy of International Law (Research Centre). He also studied at the Harvard Law School and St. Peter's College at Oxford University. Professor Malawer was a member of the Virginia Governor's trade missions to China, India, and Japan. Dr. Malawer was awarded the Hardy Cross Dillard Award by the Virginia State Bar, in recognition of serving as Chairman of its International Practice Section and Special Editor of the Virginia Lawyer. Most recently, he published articles on the US-China trade litigation, Trump's trade policies, and cybersecurity. Recent books have included Global Trade and International Law (2012), U.S. National Security Law (2009), and WTO Law, Litigation and Policy (2007). Professor Malawer served as the Director and Founder of the Graduate International Transactions Program at George Mason University (a master's program in international affairs). He was subsequently named the Distinguished Service Professor of Law & International Trade, as well as the Director of the Oxford Trade Program. This program was held annually in partnership with St. Peter's College at Oxford and Geneva. The GMU Alumni Association named Professor Malawer the Distinguished Faculty Member of the Year. He was a gubernatorial appointee to the Virginia Economic Development Partnership and recently to the Virginia International Trade Committee. He may be contacted at: StuartMalawer@msn.com

Ju Yoen Lee is an associate professor of law at Hanyang University School of Law (Seoul, Korea) as well as member of the Korean Bar and Washington, D.C. Bar. Prof. Lee began her legal career in 2005 as an associate at Yoon & Yang (Seoul, Korea) where she practiced in various fields, including intellectual property and civil & corporate law. She was awarded a Ph.D. in law from Hanyang University (Seoul, Korea), LL.M.s from Northwestern University and Peking University (China), and an LL.B. from Korea University. Professor Lee has written primarily on intellectual property, civil procedure, and private international law. Her areas of interest also include international business law and Chinese law. She may be contacted at: rosa729@hanyang.ac.kr.