

AUTHOR PROFILES

Lenka Fojtíková is an Associate Professor at the VŠB-Technical University of Ostrava's Faculty of Economics, Czech Republic. She is interested in international trade law and policy. Professor Fojtíková has participated in different scientific and pedagogical projects financed from the European Social Fund and the Czech Scientific Foundation. These projects focused on modelling trade relations of selected world economies and the WTO questions. She is the author of five monographs, chapters of books, study texts, a scientific essay and several papers that were published in academic journals or presented at international conferences abroad. Lenka is a member of the Editorial Board of the Czech scientific journal, Review of Economic Perspectives and the Creative and Knowledge Society of the International Scientific Journal that is issued in Slovakia.

Dae Un Hong is currently a JSD candidate at Cornell Law School. He holds a B.A. in International Relations from Seoul National University and a J.D. from Hanyang Law School in Korea. He practiced law in Korea and participated in the government research projects. He has published articles in both US and Korean journals, including Decline of Civil Jury Trial and Changes in Hearsay Rule of Civil Evidence Acts across the World in PUSAN LAW REVIEW and African Studies in East Asia in CORNELL INSTITUTE FOR AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT BULLETIN. He has translated more than a dozen books, including TO STEAL A BOOK IS AN ELEGANT OFFENSE: INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW IN CHINESE CIVILIZATION written by William P. Alford. His primary research interest lies in the social aspects of law. He may be contacted at: dh632@cornell.edu

Ju Yoen Lee is a partner at Jinsol LLC (Seoul, Korea) and currently a visiting scholar at Cornell Law School. Since beginning her legal career as an associate at Yoon & Yang (Seoul, South Korea) in 2005, she has been practicing in various fields, including intellectual property and civil & corporate law. She was awarded a Ph.D. in law from Hanyang University (Seoul, Korea), an LL.M. from Peking University (Beijing, China), and an LL.B. from Korea University (Seoul, Korea). Dr. Lee has published a dozen articles primarily on intellectual property, civil procedure, and private international law. Her areas of interest also include international business law and Chinese law. She may be contacted at: jl3435@cornell.edu

Xiao Ma is a researcher and lecturer at the Center for Studies of Intellectual Property Rights of Zhongnan University of Economics and Law. She is also an alumni of the Ronald Coase Institute. She obtained an LL.B. from Dongbei University of Finance and Economics and an LL.M. in constitutional and administrative law from Shandong University. Dr. Ma continued to study commercial law and intellectual property law from Bangor University, India and got her LL.M. and Ph.D. there. She was awarded CSC (China Scholarship Council) scholarship and 125th anniversary scholarships of Bangor University during 2009-12. Xiao has published articles in Asia, the UK and the US. She may be contacted at marsha0504@163.com

Tao Li is a Ph.D. candidate in International Law at Shandong University. His current research focuses on the WTO law and the developing countries, human rights law, Chinese thought and theorization of international economic law. He is also a licensed lawyer in mainland China. He advised Chinese, foreign companies on antidumping and countervailing proceedings initiated by the EU, India, Pakistan, China, etc. He also advised Chinese group corporations in sectors of energy, real estate, and culture on legal issues and defended clients in civil and administrative proceedings in Chinese courts. He may be contacted at: lawyerlitao@126.com

Zuoli Jiang is a Professor of International Economic Law at Shandong University Law School. He is also a member of the Society of International Economic Law headquartered in Geneva and the only Chinese Panelist nominated by the WTO

Secretariat. He was previously a visiting professor at the University of Bath and Rome University, and undertook joint research projects in the University of Novi Sad, the University of Uppsala, the University of Hawaii, and the University of British Columbia. Professor Jiang has been invited to give lectures on the WTO law and Chinese Traditional law and Confucianism in more than 20 institutions such as UNCITRAL, WTO, and WIPO. His research focuses on the WTO Dispute Settlement Body and the developing countries, human rights and the WTO law, Confucius and rule of law in China. He may be contacted at: jzli@sdu.edu.cn

Karwan Perot is a lecturer of Kurdistan Business School at the University of Kurdistan- Hewler (UKH) in Erbil, Kurdistan-Iraq. He was awarded B.A. (Political Science), LL.B., BSc./M.A. (Business & Management), and LL.M. (Global Business Law) in La Trobe University, Melbourne, Australia. Currently, Mr. Perot teaches Organizational Behaviour, Organizational Theory, and Commercial Law. Prior to joining the UKH, Karwan worked as a lecturer at Knowledge University for two years and Cihan University for one year in Kurdistan- Iraq. Besides academic's life, he is a practicing lawyer in Iraq. His research interests lies in international trade law, oil and gas law, health management, and business law. He may be contacted at karwan.perot@ukh.edu.krd

Stuart Malawer holds a Ph.D. from the Dept. of International Relations at the University of Pennsylvania. He has a J.D. from the Cornell Law School and a Diploma from The Hague Academy of International Law (Research Centre). He also studied at the Harvard Law School and St. Peter's College at Oxford University. Professor Malawer was a member of the Virginia Governor's trade missions to China, India and Japan. Dr. Malawer was awarded the Hardy Cross Dillard Award by the Virginia State Bar, in recognition of serving as Chairman of its International Practice Section and Special Editor of the Virginia Lawyer. Most recently, he published articles on the US- China trade litigation and cybersecurity. Professor Malawer served as the Director and Founder of the Graduate International Transactions Program at George Mason

University (a master's program in international affairs). He was subsequently named the Distinguished Service Professor of Law & International Trade, as well as the Director of the Oxford Trade Program. This program was held annually in partnership with St. Peter's College at Oxford and Geneva. The GMU Alumni Association named Professor Malawer the Distinguished Faculty Member of the Year. He may be contacted at: StuartMalawer@msn.com

Yi Chao is currently a doctoral (DCL) student at McGill University Faculty of Law, Canada. Prior to doctoral study, he obtained LL.M. (International Law) and LL.B. from Peking University Law School, China. Yi studied international law at Columbia Law School as an exchange student. His research interests include international dispute resolution, international refugee law, and treaty interpretation. He previously served as the Executive Editor-in-Chief of PEKING UNIVERSITY INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW REVIEW and research assistant in Peking University Institute of International Law. His recent works have been published at JOURNAL OF EAST ASIA & INTERNATIONAL LAW, NEW ZEALAND JOURNAL OF PUBLIC AND INTERNATIONAL LAW, GONZAGA JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW and CHINESE YEARBOOK OF INTERNATIONAL LAW. He may be contacted at: yi.chao@mail.mcgill.ca

Arash Izadi is partner of Izadi Law Firm and Member of Tehran Bar Association. Currently, he is Postdoctoral Researcher at Shanghai Jiao tong University's Koguan Law School (Private International Law Research Institute). Dr. Izadi obtained his Ph.D. in international law from Xiamen University and obtained his LL.B. and LL.M. from Iran. He is Listed Arbitrator at International Arbitration Center of Iranian Chamber of Commerce and mostly focused on China related cases. Dr. Izadi research interests are arbitration, international litigation and dispute settlements. He has published several articles both in Persian and English in the areas of international law and international commercial arbitration. Dr. Izadi taught private international law and commercial law at Iranian universities in Tehran. He may be contacted at: arash_law@hotmail.com

Hamid Mukhtar is a doctoral candidate in law at Zhejiang University Guanghua Law School, China and Research Fellow at China Rule of Law Research Institute. He obtained an LL.M. in international law from Guanghua Law School in 2015. In 2010, he got his LL.B. from University of the Punjab, Pakistan. Mr. Hamid is also an Advocate of the High Court and member of the Lahore High Court Bar Association, Punjab, Pakistan. He has acted as an independent legal practitioner in civil, criminal, commercial, and property matters. His research interests include international law, international trade and investment law, Chinese law and comparative law. In recent, Mr. Mukhtar is focusing on the impacts of China's Judicial Openness Reforms and the legal issues associated with the "Belt and Road" Initiative. He may be contacted at: hamid_mukhtar41@yahoo.com

Mingyuan Ma is a postgraduate student at Fudan University Law School. He is carrying out research on international law, especially on intellectual property in international trade. Mingyuan has broad interests in fields of law, as well as political and economic problems which are inherently related to law. He has published articles titled, On the Condition, Limit and Core of Existence of Network Sovereign; Study on Contemporary Law and the Invasion of Article 16 against Article 8 of UNCITRAL; and the Expansion of Competence-Competence Principle and Its Enlightens to China on Arbitration and Law. He was awarded an LL.B. from Shanghai Maritime University in 2016. He may be contacted at: abrahamma@163.com

Jie Liu is a Ph.D. candidate in International Law at Xiamen University School of Law, China. She is an international news commentator in Consilium Research Institute, as well as a member of Joint Project of Nanjing University and Göttingen University. Her research interests include international law history, comparative constitutional law and international investment law. She took part in translating Constitutions of the World (Europe) and the US International Investment Agreements. She may be contacted at: liujie0086@foxmail.com